Lab 03 - DOM Coin Flipper

Suggestions:

Overall, I enjoyed this lab. One thing that I enjoyed the most was dynamically generating HTML content in Javascript because it feels more "programmy" for lack of a better word. In regards to the lab, I think the requirements and steps were all fair and clearly conveyed, so I don't think the lab itself needs any improvements. However, I do wish that prior to this lab we had touched on div and span tags and specifically how to style them in CSS. I ran into problems with elements overlapping and I struggled to properly style some of the elements for a while.
